a certified family law mediator, Gordon helps clients with divorce, custody, visitation and adoption. He is also a real estate title agent, which helps him resolve property disputes, and help with the buying or selling property — whether or not you have a realtor.

Backed by an equally skillful and welcoming staff, the office atmosphere is easy-going from the moment you step in the door. Christina Pappas is the first friendly face everyone meets. Oftentimes, you will find the office pet, a loveable dog, also welcoming you at the front door. The firm administrator, Jason Nixon, routinely travels to clients' homes and businesses.

"We do everything we can to help," Jason said. "If a client needs us, we want to be there."

Adin Kikic is the firm's senior case manager. Adin has a background in construction management and is fluent in German, Bosnian and Serbo-Croatian. He appreciates the firm's dedication to helping clients without exorbitant or hidden fees.

"Unlike a lot of other law firms, we do not charge for the consultation," Adin said. "We also do not charge an hourly rate. We set a fixed fee so you do not have to worry about how much every phone call costs."

Jessie Gann and Maya Salcin are the newest members of the team and are receiving lots of positive client feedback.

The office is close to Butler Boulevard and the St. Johns Town Center. You never have to fight the downtown parking meters.
